FATHER LYONS WITNESS AT HEARING ON INJUNCTION DEMAND.

for publishing any member who engaged in a mob during a strike? "No. We had no evidence to show that any man was engaged in a mob during a strike. If there had been such evidence the guilty man would surely have been punished."

"Saw No Violence"

Patrolman William G. Ryan, of the Haver street station, who has been on duty near the union headquarters on Cambridge street since the strike started, said today that he had seen no violence or anything like it in his district.

Corporal P. Ryan was asked to account for the time yesterday afternoon when he was on duty near the union headquarters. He said that he was on duty near the union headquarters and saw nothing like it in his district.

SAY 'BREAKERS' ARE MENACE TO PUBLIC

That the "good moral, common decency and public safety of the inhabitants of Boston are menaced by the master transmitters of armed men of desperate character from the city of New York, Philadelphia, and other cities is an effort to break the strike of the union transmitters," was, in brief, the substance of the wholehearted testimony of this city of men of doubtful careers.

The resolutions were as follows: "Whereas, the so-called men of Boston have been declared against them, and are a present danger."

"Whereas, said-called master transmitters have been declared against them, and are a present danger."

Guild and O'Meara Praise Order Maintained During Strike

GOVERNOR GUILD.

We may all, I think, congratulate ourselves over the order that prevailed Wednesday night (Michael Cunningham, killed by a strike-breaker, was buried Wednesday)—Governor Guild in a letter to Council J. J. Foley after request for troops had been refused.

COMMISSIONER O'MEARA.

I may say for the satisfaction of all citizens in Boston who have at heart only its welfare and the security of its people, that the city is extraordinarily free from all crimes of a common character.—Police Commissioner Stephen O'Meara.

ADDRESS GIVEN BY HARRIS FICTITIOUS

Lewis Harris, the strike-breaker, who is charged with slaying and killing Michael Cunningham, the young union leader of South Boston, gave an address in New York today when he was arrested. The young man today had his case continued in the South Boston Police Court till Monday.

Charles Street Jail, where he was locked up, and who is now locked up in the South Boston Police Court till Monday.

A reporter of the BOSTON AMERICAN on his way to investigate the matter and found that there is no such address as No. 42 Ross street, the even number on that street sleeping at 48.

Police men who are well posted about the neighborhood and transmitters who know about all of the drivers of the city could not find the identity of the young man who is now locked up.

Police headquarters there have a record of a man named Harris, about twenty years of age, but he is serving a term in Sing Sing he could not be the man charged with killing Cunningham.

TRY MEIKLE BOY FOR FATHER'S DEATH MAY 20

STATE POLICE ACCUSE LAD OF FIRING FATAL SHOT; DEFENCE IS SUICIDE.

Special to the Boston American.

SALEM, May 3.—Edgar Weston Meikle, the sixteen-year-old school boy of Lynn, who has been in jail ever since last October, charged by the State Police with having murdered his father, Charles E. Meikle, who died with a boy in a little house at No. 22 Congress street, on Jan. 20, 1905, when he died of a revolver shot, is to be placed on trial May 20 in the Superior Criminal Court here.

Chief Justice Edward R. George of Essex County, today received a letter from Chief Justice Allen of the Superior Court, in which the chief justice named May 20 next as the date for the trial of the lad. The case will be heard by Judge Stevens.

Police Claim Suicide.

The Lynn police and the medical experts, after holding an autopsy into the death of the older Meikle decided that he had committed suicide in the presence of his son, who was the only person outside the house.

All of Edgar's neighbors and friends held stoutly to the main opinion, but the State police were not satisfied and last October he was arrested after it had been thought that the case was dropped. Since then the lad has remained in jail.

Charles E. Meikle, who died of a revolver shot, is to be placed on trial May 20 in the Superior Criminal Court here.

On Jan. 20, 1905, a revolver shot was heard in the house, and soon Edgar came running from a room, saying that his father had shot himself. The boy said that his father had been in the kitchen and that while they were taking together in the kitchen his father had drawn the revolver and shot himself.

Picked Up Revolver.

Edgar says that he ran to his father's side, but it was too late. He picked the revolver on a refrigerator nearby and at once gave the alarm.

The State Police claimed that the bullet which had struck the father's chest and his hand, right hand, could not have come from the revolver which Edgar said he had picked up.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph S. Trimble, of No. 26 Lexington street, said that once they saw Edgar's marriage, and he lived with them until his death.

NEW YORK, May 3.—Young William Miller is reported to be again a mark for the State Police, for even before the young child's divorce case with his present wife, the widow of the late Charles T. Miller, he was charged with having committed suicide.

PLAN MILK WAR FOR PORTLAND

Special to the Boston American.

PORTLAND, Me., May 3.—Portland is in the verge of a milk war precipitated by the Board of Health, which has drafted an ordinance requiring all milk sold by milkmen to be put in bottles at the home of the consumer. The Milkmen's Association, of this town, has engaged counsel to fight the ordinance when it goes to the Superior Court for confirmation.

The milk men say, if the ordinance goes into effect, the consumer will have to pay five cents more a quart.

The milkmen are also in arms against the Board of Health for its attempt to force the sale of milk in bottles, and to force the sale of milk in bottles, and to force the sale of milk in bottles.

Boston Men Say—"Guaranteed Clothes for Me"

I've sampled all the "say so" and "printers' ink talk" I care for. I've heard all the stories of "exclusive patterns" and "costly hand work." I've read the advertisements and I've worn the clothes. So now I say—"Guaranteed Clothes for me!"

Besides I can get in Guaranteed Clothes, "Kirschbaum" Garments at $15.00 to $18.00, the suit—virtues and merits that cannot be had in other clothes—no matter how much you pay.

And I've found that "style"—style that stays—"style" that makes a man look the "swell dresser" always—is not a matter of "costly hand work" nor of "exclusiveness."

Staying style depends on permanence of shape. Why? Because the cloth and lining have been properly shunk. This is why wearers of Kirschbaum garments always look "well dressed" regardless of weather.

"Kirschbaum" show as "hobby" fabrics as any because the weavers from whom all cloth makers buy make up the same checks, stripes and plaids effects.

Yet you get this big value in "Kirschbaum" Garments for only $15.00 to $20.00, because the makers and ourselves are content with small profits.

What reason, then, in paying $35.00 or more for shape uncertainty, when you get SHAPE CERTAINTY for less money in Kirschbaum Garments?

Our prices range from $10.00 to $30.00. Most people can be suited in $15.00 to $18.00. Kirschbaum Garments at $15.00 to $18.00.

Men's $15 Fancy Spring Overcoats $9.75

Should you need a handsome Spring Overcoat, it will pay you to examine these coats, which, for mere change, we make at a great price concession. Men's $28 Fancy Sack Suits $16.50

When we sell a suit of White's clothes, it is not enough that we have the money in our pocket for that one sale. It is not a successful sale unless the satisfaction given by that suit impels the customer to return for another. We have secured, and offer Saturday, a limited number of handsome, well-worn and cheviot Sack Suits, all Spring weight, cut single-breasted style, with hand-padded collars and button holes, broad chest and shoulders, in a swell pattern that only good dressers would wear, alpaca lined, worth $20.00 to $28.00. They go to first comers at $16.50.

FEARFUL WAR ON PACIFIC NEARLY DUE, SAYS SHAW

Clash with Japan at Hand, Sensational Hint by Former Treasury Head.

WORCESTER, May 3.—This city was startled today when they read the sensational hint of Leslie M. Shaw, former Secretary of the Treasury, in which he predicted that some day there would be a fearful war on the Pacific Coast and asserted that the Navy had powder and supplies sufficient to last twenty-four hours.

The audience was made at the thirty-second annual banquet of the Worcester Board of Trade. In the course of his remarks, which for the greater part consisted of a brief review of the history of the United States, he said:

"We have no powder." "Does anybody think that we have no powder? I think we have enough powder to last twenty-four hours. We have no powder, but we have enough powder to last twenty-four hours."

FIGHTS DEATH 3 YEARS, LOVE WINS AT LAST

After a long, weary wait of 35 months since their marriage license was issued, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred T. Bowler, of No. 25 Upton street, are receiving congratulations on their happy marriage, solemnized in a ceremony by the Rev. James W. Mitchell.

Mrs. Bowler, who was Mrs. Elizabeth Williams of Somerville, was suddenly taken ill in May, 1915, on the eve of her marriage. Several serious operations were necessary and her condition made the thought of marriage at that time impossible.

Postponement after postponement, was necessary until shortly after her health improved. She was then married in a ceremony on April 16. The second of some of the most beautiful moments of the ceremony, showing the long-expected return of the bride.

At her home Mrs. Bowler told her story, looking as she said: "I am very happy."

"We were to have been married three years ago, and we took the marriage license. I was then in Boston, and I was in Somerville. I was suddenly taken ill and was compelled to undergo several serious operations, and my health continued so poor for a long time that all thought of marriage was impossible."

"During the last year I have improved, and except for a lack of strength, as I used to be, I am now as well as I can be. We got married and that's all there is to it. I am very happy."

"We got married and that's all there is to it. I am very happy."
